ARIMA
Quand la recherche et la pratique font connaissance

Announcing a Postdoctoral Fellowship of $38,000
Duration: 12 months (beginning june or sept. 2017)
Competition closing date: 4 p.m., March 31, 2017

ARIMA is a partnership that brings together university researchers, community groups, and public institutions providing social and primary health care services. Research focuses on the emergence of formal and informal networks in response to complex problems confronted by families, individuals, and communities. This partnership is unique in its dedication to the co-construction of projects amongst researchers, practitioners and citizens in local spaces. ARIMA operates with the help of contributions from partners and a seven-year grant under the "Partnership Grants" program of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC).

As a member of this dynamic partnership, the post-doctoral fellow will join an interdisciplinary team of researchers working within a practice setting in Montréal — the Centre intégré universitaire de santé et de services sociaux du Nord-de-l'Île-de-Montréal, a university-affiliated centre — as well as a vast Canadian and international research network.

ARIMA is offering a 12-month postdoctoral fellowship of $38,000[1] to promote and support the postdoctoral project of a young researcher who has completed, or will soon complete his or her doctoral studies in a field related to the social sciences. During tenure of the fellowship, the selected candidate will be expected to carry out a postdoctoral research project that contributes ARIMA'S research theme.

To be eligible for this postdoctoral fellowship, candidates must have submitted their dissertation by September 1, 2017 or have obtained their degree a maximum of three years prior to the closing date of this competition (up to six years in specific, exceptional cases such as illness or maternity leave). Furthermore, the postdoctoral project must contribute to furthering knowledge in relation to ARIMA's research theme. While English is spoken by most in the workplace, the research centre operates in French.

Applicants should include the following documentation in their submission: a letter or presentation (if the PhD was awarded more than three years prior to the application date, this should include a justification); a copy of their PhD diploma or, if not available, a letter of proof that their dissertation has been submitted; a curriculum vitae; a copy of a recent publication, if available; two letters of recommendation, including one from their research supervisor or a jury member; and a presentation of their postdoctoral project (maximum two pages), emphasizing its contribution to furthering knowledge within ARIMA's research theme.

Applications will be assessed based on their scientific quality and their compatibility with the postdoctoral program's goals and eligibility criteria. Applications must be e-mailed to Lyne Chayer no later than March 31, 2017: arima.partenariat.recherche@gmail.com We look forward to receiving your application! Candidates will be informed of the decision by e-mail.

Université de Montréal

---

[1] Salary offered by University of Montreal.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF PUBLIC, COMMUNITY AND FAMILY NETWORKS IN RESPONSE TO COMPLEX PROBLEMS – Research priorities and examples

STREAM 1: THE RELATIONAL DYNAMIC IN INTERVENTION NETWORKS OR FORMAL AND/OR INFORMAL CARE SETTINGS

This stream focuses on micro-level studies of interactions that are directly or indirectly related to social intervention and personal or family well-being. It may include topics such as:

- Inter-professional relations (collaborative and communicative practices, etc.) within public or community sectors or between them;
- Family or informal networks, for example, in relation to help-seeking or the distribution of caring responsibilities;
- Home care or other types of interventions that combine family and professional networks;
- The transfer of ideas, rationalities, or ways of thinking from one type of network to another;
- The processes involved in the emergence, development, and intersection of networks.

STREAM 2: FROM NETWORK GOVERNANCE TO THE GOVERNANCE OF NETWORKS IN THE FIELD OF SOCIAL SERVICES

Studies under development in this stream address inter-organizational or intersectoral social service network functioning or governance. Examples:

- How inter-organizational networks emerge and evolve;
- The management of asymmetrical relationships or of relations across sectors;
- The negotiation of normative, discursive, practical, and other types of coordination;
- The processes (trust, contracts, communication, etc.) that promote the coherence of inter-organizational networks
- The constitution of local service networks and the interaction of multiple networks operating in the same locality;
- Processes of isomorphism in networks: converging ways of seeing, thinking, and acting in private, public and associative structures;

STREAM 3: REPERCUSSIONS OF "NETWORKED" INTERVENTION PRACTICES IN THE FIELD OF SOCIAL SERVICES

This stream includes evaluative and analytic studies on the effectivity of networks: expected outcomes, unexpected consequences or adverse effects and their production, for example:

- Effects of the imposition of a network model of service delivery on patients, practitioners, organizations, the health and social services network, and society as a whole;
- Effects of networked interventions on the quality of service delivery, for example, on accessibility, continuity, or the appropriateness of services from the patients' point of view;
- Impact of networked interventions on social integration, for example, on participation, social capital, employment integration, etc;
- Effects of policy networks or deliberative networks on social service policy and programs.

University Researchers, members of ARIMA

François Aubry francois.aubry@uqo.ca	Université du Québec en Outaouais	Sociology of work, geriatrics, recruitment, skills, sociology of organizations
Valérie Amiraux valerie.amiraux@umontreal.ca	Université de Montréal	Secular regimes in Europe (history, legal systems, public policy concerning the regulation of forms of worship), religious discrimination, Muslim minorities, denominational pluralism, comparisons in the social sciences
Hélène Belleau Helene.Belleau@UCS.INRS.Ca	Institut national de la recherche scientifique (INRS)	Common-law marriage, marriage, legal aspects, family, social use of money, money management in spousal relationships, social representations, norms and values, sociology of love
Angèle Bilodeau abilodea@santepub-mtl.qc.ca	Université de Montréal	Public planning, participation and partnership, social innovation, inter-organizational/intersectoral collaborations, development and implementation of public programs
Ingo Bode ibode@uni-kassel.de	Universität Kassel	Social policy, organization of health and social services, public and community sector administration
Denis Bourque denis.bourque@uqo.ca	Université du Québec en Outaouais	Community organizing, CLSC and the public health and social services network, relationships between the community sector and the public network
Normand Carpentier normand.carpentier@umontreal.ca	CIUSSS du Nord-de-l'Île-de-Montréal et Université de Montréal	Social organization of care, analysis of social networks, sequential modeling of social processes
Yves Couturier Yves.Couturier@USherbrooke.ca	Université de Sherbrooke	Interdisciplinarity, service integration, professional practices, interprofessional coordination

Jean-Louis Denis jean-louis.denis@enap.ca	École nationale d'administration publique	Health management, public management, governance of health and social service organizations, organization theory, information, regulation of health systems, decision-making, evaluation, innovation, change, health system reforms, use of knowledge
Catherine des Rivières-Pigeon desrivieres.catherine@uqam.ca	Université du Québec à Montréal	Sociology of health, public health, women's health, depression, post-natal depression, maternity and health, work and women's health, autism, intervention
Oscar Firbank oscar.e.firbank@umontreal.ca	Université de Montréal	Evaluation of home support services, quality of care, long-term care, governance of home care services, equality and access to long-term care services
Dominic Foisy dominic.foisy@uqo.ca	Université du Québec en Outaouais	Community organizing, CSSSs and CLSCs, citizen participation
Frédéric Gilbert gilbert.frederic@uqam.ca	Université du Québec à Montréal	Organizational change, governance of health services, work force issues, labour relations
Marianne Kempeneers marianne.kempeneers@umontreal.ca	Université de Montréal	Sociodemography, forms of family solidarity, intergenerational comparisons
Bernard-Simon Leclerc bernardsimon.leclerc.bcstl@ssss.gouv.qc.ca	CIUSSS du Nord-de-l'Île-de - Montréal et Université de Montréal	Social epidemiology, social determinants, social inequalities in health, social issues in health services, evaluation of practices, programs, and participatory and intersectoral interventions
Maurice Lévesque maurice.levesque@uottawa.ca	University of Ottawa	Sociology of health, social networks, social policy
André-Anne Parent andre-anne.parent@umontreal.ca	Université de Montréal	Social inequality and fight against poverty, development of communities, collective action, professional and organizational practices to improve health equity, urban and rural health, environmental justice

Maryse Potvin potvin.maryse@uqam.ca	Université du Québec à Montréal	Antiracism, discrimination, human rights, deprivation, educational inequalities, social inequalities, young second generation immigrants, school retention, racism, ethnic relations
Cécile Rousseau cecile.rousseau@mcgill.ca	McGill University, Montréal	Mental health of refugee children, access to health care of children with precarious immigration status, shared care model for youth mental health services
Nathalie St-Amour nathalie.st-amour@uqo.ca	Université du Québec en Outaouais	Family-work balance, public policy development, psychosocial intervention
Johans Sandvin mailto:johans.sandvin@uin.no	University of Nordland, Norway	Organization and function of the welfare state, welfare state professionals and clients, social integration and social control
Sébastien Savard sebastien.savard@uottawa.ca	University of Ottawa	Social service administration, community organizations, partnership between community organizations and public institutions, evaluation of social practices, civil society
Nassera Touati nassera.touati@enap.ca	École nationale d'administration publique	Transformations of health systems, social learning, evaluative research
José Carlos Suárez Herrera joseko70@hotmail.com	Université d'Aix Marseille	Intersectorial governance of social and health networks, organizational integration of strategic innovative practices, and regulatory mechanisms of health organizations and systems
Deena White (responsible) deena.white@umontreal.ca	Université de Montréal	Transformation of the place and role of community groups in relation to the State, social policies